

My Voice in America's Democracy

If my voice in America's Democracy was loud and clear, I would say a lot of wonderful things about America, like our freedom and the right for girls to go to school and be counted equally. I love that girls and boys learn how to read and write whereas in other places, neither girls nor boys can afford to or go to school and learn. I love America because we have the freedom to vote. In other countries they don't have freedoms or the right to vote. Although we still have a leader, our president, we can still vote for who we think is the right person to rule over our country.

Now I'm going to explain our freedom to have items we don't even need, but what we choose to want, and to have, such as TV, internet, phones, websites, video games, and even democracy, which is a luxury, too! Some people who don't live in America don't even know what Spotify or Netflix is! Even though we have no need for such things, we have the freedom and ability to have them, and we have the freedom to invent all sorts of similar items.

Next, I would like to tell you about what freedoms we are blessed to have, compared to what other countries do not have. The USA has the freedom of expression, the freedom of the press, the freedom of assembly, and the freedom of religion, including Christian, Protestant, Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism, and Muslim. I sometimes feel as if we should "share" our freedoms with other countries. I think this is why so many people live or want to live here in America, arriving legally or illegally.

In conclusion, I want to thank you for all of your hard work, Veterans, for helping our country by recognizing the ability for you to share your skills, making our country a better place, and protecting our freedoms in America. I love and support all of your hard work, and I enjoyed writing this essay expressing my voice in America's democracy. Thank you again!
