My Voice in America's Democracy

I am an 11 year old kid from a small school and my voice in democracy is not very loud right now. I can't really do much about the presidents, BUT I still can contribute to the economy by buying products from retailers. However, as a child my voice may begin as a whisper. Eventually I will have a much bigger voice and impact on the United States.

Adults need money to pay taxes and bills unlike me where I just need it for later in life. Adults make on average $30,000 a year while I make an average of $27.03 a year.

The US has a democracy unlike England which has kings and queens . I can't wait until I Can vote when I'm 18 for a president . Here's how it works. This year's presidential election is on November 5th .

This year's debates are longer than most years because one candidate dropped out before elections took place so a new candidate took his place. With all the debating all the citizens are all riled up with anticipation. Lots of people are disagreeing with one another and fighting with words .

I just learned that there are five or six candidates, not just two. They are so irrelevant,I don't even know their names besides Trump and Harris. Trump has already run and won once. He ran again but lost in 2020 to Biden.

The other main candidate is Harris. But if she is elected she will be the first female president in the United States. Right now the votes are around 50/50 so they are close to even. So I think ether could win.

One day I will be able to support my opinion. I don't know if I Am using my voice by watching the news but I could be. I learned that even though I am young I still have a voice in American democracy. I know that all kids grow up to be adults. I know that I will grow up. I want to be informed. I am certain I will have a voice in American democracy one day.
